Artist Statement: My Love affair is with Oils and canvas, the way the oil paints move across the canvas and the smell that fills the room. The passion I have for painting is insatiable it oozes from my flesh.

I am a thematic painter, the telling of the story through pictures is very important. I paint humanity at it's most vulnerable, attempting to capture, on each canvas, one pure moment of emotion before all is clouded by numerous added emotions to confuse us.

The models I use for my paintings are usually not professional; I search for them at libraries, universities, busy streets, and even on trams and trains. My own offspring are my main models and my main source of inspiration.

To date I have had eleven solo shows and twenty-three group shows, and have painted over eight hundred large works.
